

MARIE-CLAIRE HERMANS

energy expert, author, speaker

Marie-Claire Hermans founded energyforexperts.com, an online hub for experts/entrepreneurs and professionals looking to maximize their energy levels, lose weight without depriving themselves, and increase their self confidence through a living, plant-based lifestyle. She's known for her exquisite signature style that makes a living plant based diet hip, hot, doable, attractive and accessible for everyone, even the skeptics.

Because plant food is about much more than "just food" she's teaching experts how to approach and run their health like they run their businesses. As a result they learn to overcome personal obstacles in their journey to premium energy and transform their life in record time.

Marie-Claire's services are available world wide through her online services and the latest technologies.
